”Critical Studies meet Business and Leadership Ethics”

During the era of globalized 2000 century, we would like to contribute to the synthesis between new modes of critical studies and business ethics by promoting more in-depth understanding towards present societal phenomena. Therefore, we call for both theoretical and empirical papers dealing with ethical issues in business and organizations from critical perspective.

Full papers using normal EJBO guidelines for authors, should be submitted by September 30, 2007.
Papers are subject to the general review process of EJBO

This special issue will be published during the year 2008.
